Counselor's Corner Newsletter

Children are not only innocent and curious but also optimistic and joyful and essentially happy. They are, in short, everything adults wish they could be." – Carolyn Haywood

What's Happening.....

December has quickly made its way here and the Holidays are just around the corner.....and with it another year will come to a close. This month, our librarian Mrs. McDougall will host the annual Scholastic Book Fair. The dates are listed under Special Points of Interest. This month I will begin guidance lessons focusing on students' career interests. This guidance will continue into the month of January due to the winter break.

The weather is getting colder and we've noticed that some of our students aren't wearing coats or thick jackets to combat the cold weather. Our district's social worker has worked diligently to provide outerwear for some of our students, but, sometimes there just isn't anything available. If your child is without an adequate coat then please make sure he or she is dressed in layers for the frigid weather. This also includes wearing gloves, hats, and scarves. And even though kids hate them.....thermal underwear! Yes, kids may dislike them but they really help when one is waiting for the bus on a very cold, blistery day. Please help your child dress properly for the frigid weather. If help is needed, please call me at (314) 831-1911. Have a wonderful December.
